Christmas Illumination 2017!

A variety of special Christmas lightings will illuminate the entire Kyoto Station Building transforming it into a wonderful Christmas celebratory site. Come to the Station Building and spend a romantic time under the lights!

22-meter Giant Christmas Tree at Muromachi Koji Square (4th Floor)

Nov. 18 – Dec. 25 10:00-22:30

The giant Christmas tree, the Station Building's representative winter symbol, will appear with the new 2017 design in front of the big stairway! The stage on which the tree stands will be illustrated by young artists and students from Kyoto expressing their feelings around the themes of "gratitude" and "future."

Other Illumination Spots

17:00-22:30

In addition to the giant Christmas tree, there will be many illuminated spots inside the Station Building: East Square on the 7th floor, Sky Walk (on the 10th floor, until 22:00), and the open space (between main bus terminal and the building) in front of the Station Building.

As for this year's special, more illuminations and upgrades will be added in the East Square and the open space in front of the Station Building.

"TOKIMEKI" Winter Illumination

The Kyoto Station Building and companies based in the surrounding area will work together on a new illumination project this year. The entire area will be illuminated with various kinds of lighting techniques to welcome visitors with a magical and beautiful atmosphere. Come and enjoy a wonderful stroll admiring the beautifully transformed Kyoto Station Building.

Nov. 3, 11, 25: "Autumn Foliage of Kyoto", lights of red will illuminate the Kyoto Tower, in front of the ROHM building, and North Square of the Kyoto Station Building.

Kyoto Brands Exhibition "Ocha-no Kyoto" – Modern Tea Utensils

Oct. 28 – Dec. 7

At Kyoto Saryo, modern tea utensils (cups, bowls, plates for Japanese sweet and flower vases) designed to complement our everyday lifestyle and made by Kyoto's up-and coming artists will be exhibited. Displayed items can be purchased, too. The utensils are born from the inspiration of Oribe Fruta's manner, who was one of the famous tea masters and artists whose crafts are often quoted as expressing dynamism and a free spirit.

KYOTO BIFU – Must-not-miss Autumn Exhibitions in Kyoto

Kyoto National Museum celebrates its 120th anniversary this year. Their commemorative special exhibition, "National Treasures: Masterpieces of Japan" is being held this autumn, and the Kyoto Station Building will introduce this must-not-miss exhibition with introductory panels focusing on the museum's history and highlights of the exhibition.

About KYOTO BIFU: Referring to a way of life fundamental to Kyoto culture and nurtured by the city's artisans, the word "Bifu" can be translated to "lovely ways" or "beautiful customs." The KYOTO BIFU exhibitions at Kyoto Station Building introduce "Bifu" in its various forms, both contemporary and traditional.
